

LIVERMORE VALLEY Wine Country

Livermore Valley Wine Country is located along Interstates 580 and 680 just east of San Francisco. Our wine country includes wineries in Livermore, Pleasanton, Sunol and Castro Valley. It is easily accessible by air via the San Francisco, San Jose and Oakland airports. BART (Bay Area Rapid Transit) also serves the Tri-Valley.

An American Viticultural Area (AVA) is an official federally designated grape growing region. Each AVA encompasses unique growing climates and soil composition. There are over 170 AVA's in the United States. The Livermore Valley AVA includes the cities of Danville, Dublin, Livermore, Pleasanton, San Ramon, and the eastern boundaries of Castro Valley and Sunol.
